

Paradise Falls Hike

Saturday, March 24 at 9am

Paradise Falls plunges into a large pool along the Arroyo Conejo in Thousand Oaks. Below the falls is a rock grotto that looks alien to the surrounding landscape. Step on stones along cattails below the pool, for your best view of the falls. The hike is ~3-4 miles roundtrip with an total elevation gain of ~800 feet.

Meet promptly at 9am in the main dirt parking lot

Directions to the trailhead: Take the Ventura Fwy (101) to Thousand Oaks, exit at Lynn Road, head north for ~2.5 miles on Lynn Road, and turn left on Avenida de los Arboles. Drive ~1 mile on Avenida de los Arboles to the end of the street and loop around and park in the dirt parking lot. (If you need to park into the overflow parking area, walk back to main dirt parking lot)

Bring hiking shoes, plenty of water, munchies, hat, sunglasses and sunscreen
